

Withholding Tax Certificate Changes

Tax Administration Jamaica (TAJ) has completed some enhancements in the Revenue Administration Information System (RAIS) related to the management of Withholding Tax Certificates on eServices.

The enhancements will generally allow for a reduction in errors as it relates to amounts entered for tax withheld. Introduction of fields for country of residence of the withholder as well as additional residency statuses when creating a withholding tax certificate will facilitate this enhancement. In addition, customers will also have the ability to claim a certificate on their IT08 return for any month on or after issuance of the certificate, provided that it is being claimed on a period within the same calendar year. Customers will also be allowed amend their IT08 return to un-claim a Tax Certificate that they previously claimed, where it was claimed in error.

The changes are as indicated below:

NB. Restrictions to the number of certificates that will be displayed.

Customers who have a large number of Withholding Tax Certificates (greater than approximately 300,000) issued and received will not be able to view all their certificates via one search. This restriction is to ensure that customers do not attempt to view large number of certificates that may result in system lagging. If the entity has a large number of certificates they will need to use one of the filtering techniques to view certificates in batches/groups. The groupings can include: by confirmation number, by period in which the tax was withheld, by date/period processed, etc.

If a customer attempts to view a very large number of certificates, the following message will be displayed.
